Congratulations And WELCOME

TO THE HOME SELLING PROCESS!

You've just taken a key step toward selling your home: selecting the real estate agent that is right for you! Selling a home is one of the largest financial and life decisions most of us ever make, and it's my mission to make sure you feel supported and confident along the way.

My commitment to you is to keep you informed and educated in order to have the best home selling experience possible. Although I am here to guide you every step of the way, I hope this guide can serve as a useful resource, too. There is lots of information here, but please never hesitate to just reach out directly with any questions.

Thank you for the opportunity to help you sell your dream home and I look forward to beginning this journey together!

Let's Talk Timing, Prep, and Priorities

LET'S GET CLEAR ON WHAT MATTERS MOST TO YOU

- How important is it to you that your home sells quickly?
- Are you open to making a few small improvements if they could help your home sell faster or for more?
- Would you prefer to sell the home exactly as-is, or are you open to small investments that could create more buyer interest?
- Are you willing to be flexible on price, timing, or terms to get the outcome you want?

Great! That gives me a clear picture of where you're at. Let's look at what today's buyers are thinking and how we can use that to your advantage

What Buyers Are Navigating in This Market

CHALLENGES AND MINDSET OF TODAY'S HOMEBUYERS

Today's buyers are navigating a much different landscape than just a few years ago.

Interest rates are higher, monthly payments are tighter, and uncertainty has made many of them more cautious. But with the right strategy, these challenges don't have to work against you, they can actually work in your favor.

Buyers are payment-conscious.

Higher interest rates mean monthly budgets are tighter. Buyers are still buying, they're just looking harder for homes that feel worth it. A clean, well-presented home that shows value will stand out.

Many buyers ask for concessions.

It's now common for buyers to ask for help with closing costs, which doesn't mean losing money. It simply requires us to adjust pricing and negotiation strategies as part of today's market dynamics.

Contingencies are back.

Most buyers today are keeping inspection and appraisal protections in place. But we can protect your position too, including using kick-out clauses and strong negotiation strategies.

Decision timelines are slower.

Buyers aren't rushing like they used to. It may take a little longer to get strong offers, but serious buyers are out there. Our job is to stay flexible and keep the momentum going.

If we position your home with today's buyer in mind (clean, easy to say yes to, and priced right) we'll be giving ourselves a good shot. BUYERS ARE READY. They just need to feel confident. Let's give them a reason to move fast.

Understanding the Current Market

YOUR HOME'S PLACE IN IT

To price your home effectively, we need to look at three key categories of homes in your area. Each of these gives us valuable information that will help us position your home for a successful sale.

Active Listings	We need to position your home competitively against these properties. Your home's unique features and condition will play a key role in standing out from this competition.
Pending Listings	These homes represent successful pricing and marketing strategies. We can learn from what worked for these properties to ensure your home attracts offers quickly.
Sold Listings	These sales give us a solid foundation for pricing your home. They also help us anticipate potential appraisal issues and ensure your home is priced to both attract buyers and pass appraisal.

Impact of Price On Visibility

UNDERSTANDING THE PRICE PYRAMID

714.865.6569 • Jordona@JordonaYourRealtor.com • thehertzgroup.com

Let's Talk Pricing

OUR GOAL IS TO PRICE IT RIGHT OUT OF THE GATE

In today's market, how we price your home determines how well it performs.

We're not just putting a number on it, we're setting the tone for how it's perceived and how quickly it moves. A strong price gives us leverage, momentum, and more negotiating power

Why pricing it right from the start matters:

- Homes priced right sell 2–3x faster than homes that start high and reduce later. (NAR)
- Price reductions can raise red flags, even when there's nothing wrong with the home.
- Overpricing delays your sale and often leads to bigger concessions or a lower final sales price.
- Underpricing isn't the goal, but strategic pricing is, so we can attract attention, create urgency, and generate the strongest offers possible.
- The real estate pros agree: The longer a home sits, the harder it becomes to shift the narrative.

That doesn't mean we can't aim high,
it just means we need to be thoughtful.

Our goal is to meet the market where it is...
This isn't about guessing. It's about launching your home with confidence and a clear game plan to achieve your goals.

Creating Buzz the Moment We Launch

PREP IT. PRICE IT. LAUNCH IT RIGHT.

When we go live, we want buyers to feel like your home is the one to see.
That kind of urgency doesn't happen by accident, it's created.

Prep It

Buyers want to feel confident and excited the moment they walk in. A clean, fresh, well-presented home builds trust and stronger offers. Simple updates can make a big difference, even if you're selling "as-is."

Price It

It positions your home where today's buyers will want to come see it. Pricing it right from the start means we can drive interest, create urgency, and avoid the need for price reductions down the road.

Launch It

Our goal: buyers see your home and say, "We need to go see this." From a strong launch weekend to targeted agent outreach and "coming soon" buzz, we're stacking the deck in your favor.

Here's how we generate early momentum:

Coming Soon Strategy

We use the 'Coming Soon' window to tease the listing, alert agents, and warm up interest before it's even available for showings.

Agent-to-Agent Buzz

We'll personally reach out to agents in our network who may have a buyer match, giving them a reason to preview or show it ASAP.

Launch Weekend Strategy

A polished online debut, targeted marketing, and an open house the first weekend all work together to create that "buzz" moment.

First Impressions Matter

Photos, description, staging! It all counts. We want buyers to be sold before they even walk in the door.

We can't always control how fast an offer comes in, but we can control how well your home shows up from the start. And momentum early on gives us the best shot at a strong offer.

Your Next Steps to Selling Your Home

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT TO HAPPEN AFTER THIS MEETING

Step 3: Prepare for Marketing

- You'll get professional photography and staging guidance.
- I'll coordinate top-notch photography to showcase your home.
- You'll receive personalized staging tips to impress buyers.
- Your home will be "show-ready" for maximum appeal.

Step 4: Photo + Video Day

- Your home will be professionally captured with high-end photography and cinematic video.
- We create scroll-stopping visuals designed to grab attention instantly.
- This is where your listing comes to life and stands out from the competition.
- The full shoot typically takes up to 3 hours to ensure every detail is captured perfectly.

Step 5: Market Launch

- Your home officially hits the market across all major platforms.
- We launch a strategic marketing push to generate immediate attention and demand.
- Targeted exposure drives qualified buyers to your listing from day one.
- We monitor activity closely and position your home to create strong interest and momentum.

Step 6: Showings and Open Houses

- You'll get a streamlined, discreet showing process.
- I'll handle all showings and open houses professionally.
- You'll receive regular feedback and updates.
- Your daily life will face minimal disruption.

Step 7: Negotiate Offers

- I'll guide you through every offer, breaking down price, terms, and strength.
- We'll leverage demand and competition to negotiate the best possible outcome.
- I advocate on your behalf to maximize your net and protect your interests.
- You'll feel confident choosing the right offer, not just the highest one.

Step 8: Escrow Process

- You'll receive proactive solutions to address any inspection issues or appraisal challenges, keeping the transaction on track.
- I'll coordinate with inspectors, appraisers, and your buyer's team to promptly resolve concerns.
- I'll handle any roadblocks to ensure a smooth closing.
- I'll keep you informed every step of the way, so you always know the status.

Step 9: Closing

- Coordinate moving with your moving trucks.
- Shutoff major utilities and transfer if needed.
- Coordinate mail to be forwarded to your new address.
- Insure escrow has your payoff info and where you would like your proceeds wired.
- If your home is in a trust, make sure you have a bank account with that trust's name.
- Coordinate move out cleaning.

Step 10: After-Sale Support

- I'll continue to assist and provide resources after the transaction, helping with your next steps.
- I'll remain available to answer questions, offer referrals, and ensure your satisfaction long after the sale.
- I'll be your trusted partner for this sale and any future real estate needs.
- I'll support you through this transition and beyond.

Understanding the NAR Settlement

HOW IT AFFECTS YOU AS A SELLER

The key change: sellers are no longer required to offer compensation to buyer's agents as a condition of listing their home on the Multiple Listing Service (MLS).

HOW DOES THIS AFFECT YOU AS A SELLER?	HOW DOES THIS AFFECT BUYERS?	PROS AND CONS
• You now have more flexibility in deciding whether and how much to offer as compensation to buyer's agents. • You're no longer obligated to include a buyer's agent commission in your listing. • You may need to consider new strategies for attracting buyers and their agents to your property if you opt to not offer compensation to a buyer's agent.	• Buyers may now be responsible for paying their agent's commission out of pocket if sellers don't offer compensation. • Buyer's agents now must have signed agreements with their clients, clearly outlining their services and compensation. • Buyers might become more selective about using an agent or may try to negotiate agent fees.	Pros: • Increases exposure and showing activity • Incentivizes agents to prioritize your home • Can lead to stronger and faster offers Cons: • Adds to your overall selling costs • May impact your net proceeds • Not always necessary in high-demand markets
